Healthy Eating Policy

Introductory Statement

This policy was drafted as a collaborative exercise between Board of Management (BoM), staff and parents. Members of the Policy Committee have formulated this policy in collaboration with the rest of the committee. It will be presented to the Board of Management for ratification. This policy will be reviewed on a regular basis. The Board of Management, teachers and parents are responsible for the implementation of the policy.

Rationale

The school decided to focus on the area of healthy eating as it relates to curricular areas including:

SPHE (Social, Personal and Health Education):

- Strand Unit: Taking Care of My Body: Food and Nutrition (Curriculum J. Infants – 6th Class
- Making choices (See Teacher Guidelines pp 11-13)

Science:

- Strand Living Things: Strand Unit: Myself: Human Life Processes (Curriculum J. Infants – 6th Class) (See Teacher Guidelines p.10-11)

Furthermore, the promotion of healthy eating is of utmost importance for the healthy development of the children in our care.

Relationship to the characteristic spirit of the school

The Healthy Eating Policy supports the ethos of Carrigaline Educate Together National School. Carrigaline Educate Together N.S. is one of a rapidly increasing number of equality based schools throughout the country. The representative organisation for these schools is 'Educate Together'.

Educate Together aims to meet a growing need in Irish society for schools that recognise the developing diversity of Irish life and the modern need for democratic management structures. In particular, Educate Together guarantees children and parents of all faiths and none equal respect in the operation and governing of education.

The schools operated by the member associations of Educate Together are fully recognised by the Irish Department of Education and Skills and work under the same regulations and funding structures as other national schools. However, they have a distinct ethos or governing spirit. This has been defined in the following terms:

- Equality based i.e. all children having equal rights of access to the school, and children of all social, cultural and religious backgrounds being equally respected
- Co-educational and committed to encouraging all children to explore their full range of abilities and opportunities,
- Child centred in their approach to education
- Democratically run with active participation by parents in the daily life of the school, whilst positively affirming the professional role of the teachers (Source: Educate Together Charter)

Whilst the concepts of child-centredness and co-educationalism are now widely accepted in Irish primary education, what distinguishes the Educate Together schools is their hard work in developing a culturally inclusive and democratic ethos. This has pioneered unique approaches to inclusion of minority opinions and faiths in the Irish context.

The schools have developed education programmes which open the eyes of children to the naturally positive contribution that social, religious and cultural diversity and difference of viewpoint and opinion make to society.

The other characteristic feature of these schools is that they are democratically organised and governed. This maximises the potential for building a genuine partnership between the professional, objective role of the teacher and the necessarily personal involvement of the parent in contributing to their children's education.

Information taken from the Educate Together website www.educatetogether.ie

Carrigaline Educate Together N.S. makes the distinction between denominational education and moral/religious education. The ethical curriculum followed by the school is called the Learn Together Curriculum. It is comprised of four strands: Morality & Spirituality, Equality & Justice, Belief systems, Ethics & the environment.

Denominational instruction will be facilitated by the school insofar as groups will be permitted to use the school premises. This is organised by parents outside of school hours.

Aims

The aims and objectives of the policy can be summarised as follows:

- To heighten an awareness of the importance of a balanced diet
- To encourage the children to make wise choices about food and nutrition
- To raise levels of concentration within class due to consumption of healthy food

Healthy Eating Policy

Objective

The objective of this policy is to improve the health and well being of all children at CETNS by promoting a healthy eating regime within the school and by giving the children an opportunity to learn about the effect of food on their bodies to help them make informed choices throughout their lives.

Implementation

The policy will be implemented in accordance with current guidelines from the Department of Health and Children. The Food Pyramid, which is the education tool used nationally and internationally to communicate the healthy eating message, will be used at CETNS as the basis for healthy eating training.

Scope

This policy applies to the food that children consume while at school, focusing on the contents of a healthy lunchbox and on health promoting activities within the school.

Education

All classes will receive lessons on healthy eating, using the Food Pyramid and current literature from the Department of Health as the basis of the lessons.

Guest speakers for example nutritionists, a public health nurse, dental nurses, chefs and sportspeople may be invited to speak to the children on the importance of a healthy diet and exercise.

Special Dietary Needs

Where a child has special dietary needs, these needs supersede the guidelines expressed in this policy.

Review

This policy will be revised on an on-going basis to reflect changing trends in nutrition and to reflect input from the children of CETNS, their teachers and their parents/guardians.

Guidelines

Good nutrition is essential for schoolchildren. Making healthy food choices enables children to attain their optimum growth, development and health potential. Healthy eating allows children to take full advantage of the opportunity to learn and to play during the school day. In addition, exercise is an essential part of a healthy lifestyle.
